Question Two

A civil engineering company decided to diversify its construction activities to improve its prospects of winning works in drainage and earthwork areas. It considers investing heavily in new equipment and machinery to meet the expected work. The board of directors considers three types of plant (A, B and C) for investment:

Each of the three plant types requires an initial investment of £25,000. In return, the company is expected to receive annual payments from operation of each plant as detailed in Table Q2. There is no scrap value for all plant at the end of the investment period and the cost of capital finance is 10%.

Appraise the three investments using the following methods:

- (i) The Payback Period (PBP) (7 marks)
- (ii) The Accounting Rate of Return (ARR) (8 marks)
- (iii) The Net Present Value (NPV) (8 marks)
- (iv) Explain the reasons for your advice to the company (7 marks)

Useful Formulae

$$(1) \quad NPV = \sum_i^n CF_i \times DCF_i$$

where,

NPV = Net present value

CF_i = Cashflow at year i

DCF_i = Discount cashflow factor for i year and interest rate, k , given as $= \frac{1}{(1+k)^i}$

n = Number of years

$$(2) \quad ARR = \frac{\text{Average Annual Profit}}{\text{Initial Investment}} \times 100$$

where,

ARR = Accounting Rate of Return

Average Annual Profit = $\frac{\sum_i^n CF_i - \text{Total Depreciation}}{n}$, with CF_i defined as cashflow in year i

Initial Investment = Initial capital investment put in project
