Question 3

Part A

XYZ Plc is a rapidly growing public limited company. The board of directors is responsible for making strategic decisions and ensuring compliance with corporate governance principles. Recently, concerns have been raised by shareholders about potential conflicts of interest, lack of transparency in decision-making, and whether the directors are fulfilling their legal duties effectively.

Required:

Assess the powers and duties of directors in a public limited company (Plc), concerning relevant legal provisions. Evaluate the effectiveness of a board of directors in ensuring compliance with corporate governance principles, considering issues such as accountability, transparency, and shareholder protection. Support your answer with examples.

(15 marks)

Part B

ABC Ltd is looking to raise funds for expansion and is considering two options: issuing new shares or obtaining a loan. The directors are debating whether loan capital or share capital would be more suitable for the company's long-term financial health and control.

Required:

Demonstrate the key differences between loan capital and share capital, discussing their advantages and disadvantages from the perspectives of both the company and investors. Evaluate which option may be more appropriate for ABC Ltd, considering factors such as control, repayment obligations, cost, and risk.
