Scope and applicability

These regulations apply to:

- a) students whose programme of study commenced in 2021/22 or subsequent academic years; and
- b) students whose programme of study commenced in previous academic years, but who have experienced an interruption to study or who failed to proceed to their next level of study.

For all students whose programme of study commenced before 2021/22, progression decision made on the previous academic session of 2020/21 shall stand. For all progression decisions made thereafter, these regulations shall be used.

Definitions

The following definitions are used in these regulations:

Academic year: A defined period, normally lasting twelve months, in which the delivery of a level of study, or a portion thereof, is undertaken.

Award: Any formal qualification awarded by the University to an individual student which may be either an end qualification or an exit award

Assessment Board: A committee to agree final student marks, to determine progression and award of an exit award or end qualification as outlined in the Regulations for the Organisation and Conduct of Assessment Boards.

Assessment component: An assessment component is one of the assessment items on a module, from which the final mark/outcome for the module is derived. This process is commonly referred to as summative assessment. Formative assessments are those which do not count towards the formal outcome of the module and are not considered to be assessment components for the purpose of these regulations.

End qualification: The target qualification for which the student is enrolled or registered.

Exit award: The highest level of award which a student achieves who has not successfully completed the end qualification.

Proceed: where an undergraduate student without 120 credits at one academic level is, as a result of the decision of the Assessment Board, allowed to start to study at the next academic level.

Programme of study: A collection of modules grouped under a specific title, the details of which have been approved by Senate as leading to an appropriate end qualification and/or exit awards. A programme can also be known as a course.

Progress: Where an undergraduate student gains 120 credits at an academic level, is deemed to have completed that level of study and may start to study at the next academic level.

PSRB: A Professional, Statutory or Regulatory Body. This includes, but is not limited to, accrediting bodies and statutory bodies that deal with legal requirements and immigration.

Senate: Any reference to Senate in these regulations shall be deemed to include a reference to any committee of Senate to which Senate has delegated the relevant authority.

Stage: an amount of academic study and credit that normally corresponds to an academic level as outlined in the Programme Specification.

1. Course Regulations

- 1.1 There shall be course regulations in a form approved by Senate and incorporated into the programme specification.
- 1.2 In course regulations, any deviation from, or modification to these Regulations in respect of any programme shall require the approval of Senate.

2. Modules

- 2.1 Throughout all undergraduate programmes one credit is associated with ten hours of notional learning time. The distribution of the total notional learning time for a module shall be part of the module specification approved at the time of validation.
- 2.2 Normally, a student will not be permitted to study with attendance for more than 80 credits in one semester, unless this has been approved by the relevant programme leader and Assessment Board. In respect of part-time students, no more than 100 credits may normally be studied in an academic year.
- 2.3 Where a module is defined, atypically, as a pre-requisite module in the relevant programme specification, students must normally pass such a module before being allowed to proceed to take any linked further module(s). Exceptions may be allowed at the discretion of the Assessment Board, on the advice of the tutor(s) for the linked further module(s).
- 2.4 Credit-bearing modules shall be designated as one of Level 3 (Foundation) in the Regulated Qualifications Framework (RQF)¹, or FHEQ Level 4, FHEQ Level 5, FHEQ Level 6 and FHEQ Level 7, as per the Office for Students Sector recognised standards².
- 2.5 Modules may be designated as Core (compulsory) or Optional within a programme.
- 2.6 A student may normally only withdraw from a module within the first two weeks of the module commencing and with the approval of the Module Tutor and programme leader. A student will normally be required to take an alternate module for the appropriate number of credits and at the appropriate level of study, unless the student has withdrawn from the programme or suspended their studies. Withdrawal without permission and/or beyond this point without good reason will be recorded at an Assessment Board as a failure in the module (including any project or dissertation module).

- 6.9 Where a PSRB requires that the maximum period of registration shall be different to that defined in these regulations, the requirement of the PSRB shall apply. Students shall be informed where the maximum period of registration is shorter than that outlined in 6.9.

7. Assessment

- 7.1 All modules shall be assessed in accordance with the University's agreed marking criteria, either by:
 - 7.1.1 in-course assessment conducted during the semester(s) in which the module(s) is/are completed; or
 - 7.1.2 examination during an examination period; or
 - 7.1.3 a combination of both 7.1.1 and 7.1.2.
- 7.2 The method of assessment for each module, including the weighting for each element of the assessment, shall be notified to students.
- 7.3 In exceptional circumstances, with the approval of the Chair of the relevant Assessment Board, an alternate form of assessment to that outlined in the approved programme documentation, which covers the same Learning Outcomes, may be approved for students with individual needs, where this is supported by appropriate evidence and where such adjustments are deemed to be reasonable and can be made without endangering the safety of the award or unduly providing any student with an advantage or disadvantage.

- 7.4 The minimum mark for a pass in each module shall be 40%. Where a student satisfies the examiners in a module, s/he shall be awarded the appropriate credits at the specified level. This shall normally be calculated through a simple weighted mean of the assessment components, so long as an attempt has been made in each component. Where a PSRB, or other regulator(s), have different requirements which supersede the University norm, this shall be recorded in the relevant module specification and notified to students.
- 7.5 A student who passes a module in which he/she has previously failed, shall be credited with the minimum mark for a pass at module level unless capping at the component level enables a better overall outcome for the student. This will not be the case where the assessment regulations for the programme explicitly specify otherwise.
- 7.6 A student shall normally be permitted one attempt to redeem unsatisfactory performance in a module. At the discretion of the Assessment Board, one further final attempt may be made to redeem unsatisfactory performance.
- 7.7 Normally, only University of Bolton modules may be used to calculate the classification of an award. Where a student has previously obtained a University (of Bolton) exit award or end qualification, the marks for modules from that previous qualification cannot be used to calculate the classification of a further University [award] (of Bolton) end qualification, unless the student agrees to surrender their previous qualification to avoid double counting of module marks.
- 7.8 Where a programme of study includes one or more periods of industrial/professional training or periods of study/work experience either in the UK or abroad, the student's performance may also be assessed in these periods and may contribute to the final assessment. Such periods shall be detailed in the relevant programme specification.
- 7.9 A student who has been awarded credit in a module shall not be permitted to be reassessed in that module with a view to improving his/her mark.
- 7.10 If students (by reason of absence, non-submission of work, or poor performance) do not satisfy an Assessment Board in assessment components for any module(s) and it is established to the satisfaction of the Assessment Board via the University's Mitigating Circumstances Regulations and Procedures that this was due to proven illness or other circumstances found valid on production of evidence, then the Board shall use its discretion to ensure that the students are not disadvantaged or advantaged as a result.

Extensions

- 7.11 In cases of illness or other extenuating circumstances, programme leaders (or equivalent) may allow assessments to be submitted late without penalty, following the submission of a completed extension form and relevant evidence. Such cases shall then be monitored by the Head of School or equivalent. The maximum extension to be granted under these circumstances is fourteen calendar days except for extensions for individual projects and artifacts which, at the discretion of the Programme Leader, may be longer than 14 days. Any request for an extension to a submission deadline must normally be made by the student, to the Module Tutor before the original submission date.
- 7.12 Requests for extensions for periods longer than 14 calendar days must be made using the University's Mitigating Circumstances Regulations and Procedures.

- 7.13 A Student who fails to submit assessment components by the prescribed date or the revised date as outlined in 7.11 and 7.12 shall be subject to the following penalties.
- Up to 7 calendar days late= 10 marks subtracted but if the assignment would normally gain a pass mark, then the final mark to be no lower than the pass mark for the assignment.
 - More than 7 calendar days late = will be counted as non-submission and no marks will be recorded.
- 7.14 All assessed work should be submitted as specified in the Module Guide or equivalent. Coursework not submitted will be recorded as unsatisfactory and a mark of zero will be recorded.
- 7.15 Except where required by a PSRB, assessment items that are graded Pass/Fail only will not be accepted beyond the prescribed date or by the revised date as outlined in 7.11 and 7.12 and will be recorded as a Fail.

Word limits

- 7.16 Any relevant word limit for an assessment component shall be specified in the assessment brief. Students shall be informed in the programme handbook of any penalties to be applied if they exceed the specified word limit in a written assessment. This limit shall not include rubric associated with tables, figures, diagrams or appendices and reference lists at the end of the assessment but will include any direct quotations.
- 7.17 Where a word limit is specified for a written assessment, students shall include the number of words at the end of the assessment.
- 7.18 Students who exceed a specified word limit for a written assessment shall be subject to the following penalty system.
- Up to 10% over the specified word length = no penalty
 - 10 – 20% over the specified indicative word length = 5 marks subtracted but if the assessment would normally gain a pass mark, then the final mark to be no lower than the pass mark for the assessment.
 - More than 20% over the indicative word length = if the assessment would normally gain a pass mark, then the final mark to be the pass mark for the assessment.

8. Engagement

- 8.1 Students shall normally attend the scheduled learning and teaching events for each module. In respect of students pursuing a programme of study that includes online learning, this shall include scheduled activities and interactions.
- 8.2 Students shall be required to submit and/or attend each assessment component at the dates and times prescribed. Failure to submit in an assessment component without good reason shall result in the student being deemed unsatisfactory in the particular assessment component and a mark of 0 will be recorded.
- 8.3 Attendance shall be recorded for all elements of a programme of study. Students with poor attendance shall be reported to the relevant personal tutor for action who will explore this in line with University and/or PSRB policy. An Assessment Board shall normally consider the quality of a student's engagement with their studies when considering whether to allow an additional final attempt to redeem unsatisfactory performance i.e. using engagement to determine whether to make repeat or refer and third attempts for undergraduate modules.

- 8.4 Students who fail to give formal notice in writing of their intention to withdraw from their programme or its elements and who do not complete assessments will normally be deemed to have failed the programme or its specific elements.
- 8.5 Students must formally request permission from their Head of School/ Centre Operational Lead in writing if they wish temporarily to suspend their studies.

9. Determination of results and action to be taken

- 9.1 The relevant Assessment Board shall determine for RQF Level 3, FHEQ Level 4 and FHEQ Level 5:

 - iv. the student not be awarded the end qualification; and/or
 - v. the student be awarded an exit award and be deemed to have completed their studies; or
 - vi. the student not be awarded a qualification and be deemed to have completed their studies.
- 9.3 The relevant Assessment Board shall determine for FHEQ Level 7 (for Integrated Master's degrees only):

A student who has satisfactorily completed FHEQ level 5 but who has failed to pass the Industrial Year Placement Module and who wishes to progress to level 6 must transfer to the alternative non-sandwich version of the programme at level 6.
 - v. A student who has achieved 120 credits at FHEQ Level 4 and a minimum of 80 credits at RQF Level 3, is permitted to progress to the next academic stage of the programme, provided the student has attempted all assessments at RQF Level 3, and the learning outcomes have been achieved at FHEQ level 4.

 - b. re-assessment in the failed module(s) without attendance at the next opportunity (a 'refer' decision); or
 - c. re-assessment in the failed module(s) without attendance on the module(s) during the following session (a 'refer' decision);

- 9.6 An Assessment Board may decide that a student's profile of module results may be amended by the following process:

Compensation:

To decide that satisfactory overall performance can be used to compensate for unsatisfactory performance in a module with an aggregate mark normally no lower than 35 percent, the following shall apply. The mark is not adjusted and a pass is recorded and credit awarded, with a note that the instance of unsatisfactory performance has been compensated. This is at the discretion of the Assessment Board and will not be utilised where PSRB requirements deem that this may not be used. Compensation can apply to a maximum of modules worth, normally, one quarter of the total credits constituting a particular Stage of a student's programme of study. Where a PSRB, or other regulator(s), have different requirements which supersede this, compensation may not be used or the use of compensation may be adapted accordingly.

10. Structure and content of re-assessments

- 10.1 Where a student is required to be re-assessed in one or more assessment components, the re-assessment shall be of the same structure as the assessment at the time of the initial failure, unless:
- i. an alternate form of re-assessment has been approved for the purpose in which case this shall be stated in the relevant module specification and/or Module Guide; or
 - ii. the relevant Assessment Board decides that this is not practical.

Re-assessments shall be based upon the same syllabus as the original assessment.

- 10.2 Where a student is permitted to be re-assessed in one or more failed modules without attendance on the module(s), the following arrangements shall normally apply:
- i. for re-assessment within one year of the initial failure, the re-assessment shall be of the same structure and be based upon the same syllabus as the assessment at the time of the initial failure unless;

ANNEX A Qualifications Descriptors³

1. Qualification descriptors set out the generic outcomes and attributes expected for the award of a particular type of qualification (for example a bachelors' degree with honours). They describe the minimum acceptable level of achievement that a student has to demonstrate to be eligible for an award. They are 'generic' because they describe the outcomes and attributes expected from any subject of study, rather than from any particular subject, and so are applicable across subjects and modes of study.
2. The qualification descriptors set out below describe the threshold academic standard for those qualification types in terms of the levels of knowledge and understanding and the types of abilities that holders of the relevant qualification are expected to have.
3. The qualification descriptors are in two parts. The first part is a statement of outcomes, achievement of which is assessed and which a student should be able to demonstrate for the award of the qualification. This is a statement of the threshold academic standard for the qualification. This part is of particular relevance to providers in designing, approving, assessing and reviewing academic programmes. The second part of the descriptor is a statement of the wider abilities that a typical student would be expected to have developed. It assists providers to understand the general capabilities expected of holders of the qualification.
4. Each qualification descriptor sets out the outcomes for the typical or main qualification type at each level. At most levels there is more than one type of qualification that may be achieved (for example postgraduate diplomas and certificates in addition to master's degrees at Level 7). Within each level, the various types of qualifications involve different volumes of learning (for example master's degrees entail more learning than postgraduate certificates). As a consequence, there are differences in the range and nature of outcomes and attributes expected of students. Not all of the qualification types at each level therefore meet all of the expectations of the qualification descriptor. Where a qualification type has a smaller volume of learning than the main qualification type, the qualification descriptor for the degree is used as a reference point and the sub-degree qualification is expected to meet the descriptor in part. This is also the approach taken for individual modules, where credit is awarded for completion of a smaller volume of learning than the main qualification type.

Descriptor for a higher education qualification at Level 4: Certificate of Higher Education

5. The descriptor provided for this level is for any Certificate of Higher Education, which should meet the descriptor in full. This qualification descriptor should also be used as a reference point for other qualifications aligned with Level 4.
6. Certificates of Higher Education are awarded to students who have demonstrated:
 - knowledge of the underlying concepts and principles associated with their area(s) of study, and an ability to evaluate and interpret these within the context of that area of study
 - an ability to present, evaluate and interpret qualitative and quantitative data, in order to develop lines of argument and make sound judgements in accordance with basic theories and concepts of their subject(s) of study.

³ The content of Annex A is drawn from 'Sector-recognised standards', effective from 1 May 2022. See Sector-recognised standards \(officeforstudents.org.uk\) (<https://www.officeforstudents.org.uk/media/53821cbf-5779-4380-bf2a-aa8f5c53ecd4/sector-recognised-standards.pdf>)

7. Typically, holders of the qualification will be able to:

- evaluate the appropriateness of different approaches to solving problems related to their area(s) of study and/or work
- communicate the results of their study/work accurately and reliably, and with structured and coherent arguments
- undertake further training and develop new skills within a structured and managed environment.

8. And holders will have:

- the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring the exercise of some personal responsibility.

9. Holders of a Certificate of Higher Education will have a sound knowledge of the basic concepts of a subject, and will have learned how to take different approaches to solving problems. They will be able to communicate accurately and will have the qualities needed for employment requiring the exercise of some personal responsibility. The Certificate of Higher Education may be a first step towards obtaining higher level qualifications.

Descriptor for a higher education qualification at Level 5: Foundation degree

10. The descriptor provided for this level is for any foundation degree which should meet the descriptor in full. This qualification descriptor should also be used as a reference point for other qualifications at Level 5, including Diplomas of Higher Education and Higher National Diplomas.

11. Foundation degrees are awarded to students who have demonstrated:

- knowledge and critical understanding of the well-established principles of their area(s) of study, and of the way in which those principles have developed
- ability to apply underlying concepts and principles outside the context in which they were first studied, including, where appropriate, the application of those principles in an employment context
- knowledge of the main methods of enquiry in the subject(s) relevant to the named award, and ability to evaluate critically the appropriateness of different approaches to solving problems in the field of study
- an understanding of the limits of their knowledge, and how this influences analyses and interpretations based on that knowledge.

12. Typically, holders of the qualification will be able to:

- use a range of established techniques to initiate and undertake critical analysis of information, and to propose solutions to problems arising from that analysis
- effectively communicate information, arguments and analysis in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences and deploy key techniques of the discipline effectively
- undertake further training, develop existing skills and acquire new competences that will enable them to assume significant responsibility within organisations.

13. And holders will have:

- the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring the exercise of personal responsibility and decision-making.

14. The foundation degree is an example of a qualification that meets, in full, the expectations of the qualification descriptor.
15. Holders of qualifications at this level will have developed a sound understanding of the principles in their field of study, and will have learned to apply those principles more widely. Through this, they will have learned to evaluate the appropriateness of different approaches to solving problems. Their studies may well have had a vocational orientation, for example HNDs, enabling them to perform effectively in their chosen field. Holders of qualifications at this level will have the qualities necessary for employment in situations requiring the exercise of personal responsibility and decision-making.

Descriptor for a higher education qualification at Level 6: Bachelors' degree with honours

16. The descriptor provided for this level is for any bachelors' degree with honours which should meet the descriptor in full. This qualification descriptor should also be used as a reference point for other qualifications at Level 6, including bachelors' degrees, and graduate diplomas.
17. Bachelors' degrees with honours are awarded to students who have demonstrated:
 - a systematic understanding of key aspects of their field of study, including acquisition of coherent and detailed knowledge, at least some of which is at, or informed by, the forefront of defined aspects of a discipline
 - an ability to deploy accurately established techniques of analysis and enquiry within a discipline
 - conceptual understanding that enables the student:
 - to devise and sustain arguments, and/or to solve problems, using ideas and techniques, some of which are at the forefront of a discipline
 - to describe and comment upon particular aspects of current research, or equivalent advanced scholarship, in the discipline
 - an appreciation of the uncertainty, ambiguity and limits of knowledge
 - the ability to manage their own learning, and to make use of scholarly reviews and primary sources (for example, refereed research articles and/or original materials appropriate to the discipline).
18. Typically, holders of the qualification will be able to:
 - apply the methods and techniques that they have learned to review, consolidate, extend and apply their knowledge and understanding, and to initiate and carry out projects
 - critically evaluate arguments, assumptions, abstract concepts and data (that may be incomplete), to make judgements, and to frame appropriate questions to achieve a solution – or identify a range of solutions – to a problem
 - communicate information, ideas, problems and solutions to both specialist and non-specialist audiences.
19. And holders will have:
 - the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring:
 - the exercise of initiative and personal responsibility

- decision-making in complex and unpredictable contexts
 - the learning ability needed to undertake appropriate further training of a professional or equivalent nature.
20. Holders of a bachelor's degree with honours will have developed an understanding of a complex body of knowledge, some of it at the current boundaries of an academic discipline. Through this, the holder will have developed analytical techniques and problem-solving skills that can be applied in many types of employment. The holder of such a qualification will be able to evaluate evidence, arguments and assumptions, to reach sound judgements and to communicate them effectively.
21. Holders of a bachelor's degree with honours should have the qualities needed for employment in situations requiring the exercise of personal responsibility, and decision-making in complex and unpredictable circumstances.

ANNEX B Honours Degree Classification Criteria⁴

The University's General Assessment Guidelines, published separately, are used by staff when marking students' written work. Those detailed and comprehensive Guidelines are incorporated within the University's Module Guide Template and Assessment Feedback Proforma, as appropriate to the Level of the module concerned. Students' assessed work (except for Pass/Fail assessments and modules) is given a numerical mark which reflects the extent to which it meets the relevant assessment criteria. Module marks are then calculated by combining the marks for individual pieces of assessed work, as defined in the assessment pattern from the module specification. The honours degree classification rules from Section 12 above then determine how a student's individual module marks are combined to arrive at an average mark, which in turn determines the final honours degree classification. As a result of the foregoing, a graduate with the marks indicated below will be expected to have demonstrated the generic skills and attributes attached to their respective classification, as set out in the following:

Below 40 percent Not successful	40-49 percent Third-class honours	50-59 percent Lower second- class honours	60-69 percent Upper second- class honours	70-100 percent First-class honours
The student did not achieve the required course learning outcomes and: did not consistently demonstrate sufficient knowledge and understanding, cognitive, practical and transferable skills	The student achieved all their required course learning outcomes and: demonstrated knowledge and understanding, cognitive, practical and transferable skills	The student achieved all their required course learning outcomes and: demonstrated strong knowledge and understanding, cognitive, practical and transferable skills	The student achieved all their required course learning outcomes and: demonstrated thorough knowledge and understanding, cognitive, practical and transferable skills	The student achieved all their required course learning outcomes and: consistently demonstrated advanced knowledge and understanding, cognitive, practical and transferable skills

ANNEX C: Rules For The Use Of Combined Studies Award Titles

1. Combined Studies award titles may be used to appropriately recognise successful completion of a programme of study in a particular subject area or areas when a student negotiates an individualised programme of study in one or more subjects (sometimes with transfer of credit for prior learning), or when a student has otherwise not completed a route leading to the usual award title. The latter occurs, for instance, when students do not complete one or more of the core modules prescribed for a programme but do nevertheless complete the required number of modules from the group to justify a named award.
2. Whether the negotiation of an alternative programme of study arises from necessity or desire, both the student and the relevant programme authority should be satisfied that the learning outcomes to be achieved through completion of the alternative programme are appropriate for the title and level of the proposed award. This will require a process of academic counselling to take place, with subsequent, written approval of the alternative programme at the level of the School Assessment Board before registration is confirmed or amended.
3. In all cases, of course, students must have obtained the required number of credits at the appropriate levels to qualify for the award in question, as specified in the Assessment Regulations for Undergraduate Programmes.

The phrase 'in Subject x' can be omitted in those cases so marked above to account for other possibilities, e.g. where there is insufficient subject identity to (that part of) the programme to warrant a subject title at all. Generic award titles (e.g. Humanities, Science, and Technology) will need to be proposed by Schools if they wish to use them. They might then be used in place of 'Subject x' should the student's programme warrant it.
